Bobby Hill Artist Bio

- Bobby is an African-American Brooklyn-based artist that blends pop imagery, raw graffiti & abstract expressionist elements. Bobby Hill's career started as an illustrator, but it wasn't until he researched Andy Warhol that he became interested in screen-printing as an art. In early 2001, his first editorial illustration appeared in "Slam" magazine. A few months later, Bobby was picked out of several artists to create original works of art for Coca-Cola.
- In many of Bobby's paintings, there are handwritten messages. When the writing is used, it is done for the graphic element but there is often a comment that is meant to be read as well. It has the pulsating feel of the street. Sometimes, he will grab posters pasted on a wall & incorporate them into his work. Occasionally he will paste or stitch fabric to his working surface.
- Bobby was selected for the Gen Art show & from 2002 through 2003, his work was exhibited throughout NYC at Splash Light Studios, The Cutting Room, Trust, MaxFish, The Grey Worldwide Gallery & The Art Directors Club.

Craig Anthony Miller Art Mecca Artist Bio

- Craig Anthony Miller (CAM) (b. 1971) was born & raised in Brooklyn, New York. He received his BFA in graphic design from St. John's University in Queens, New York. His professional graphic art practice gave way to his natural transition into painting. The opportunity to share his creative process at a live painting event on the Lower East Side in 1996 was the first in a series of events that would lead him to shift his focus primarily to this new medium. Working in primarily acrylic and aerosol paints, both on studio & public surfaces, CAM has created a series of paintings & murals throughout Brooklyn that combine the style of stained glass & the energy of the urban landscape with symbols of freedom, strength & wellness.
- CAM's earlier works focused on the 'Warrior Within', posing a reminder to viewers to persevere through their personal battles in search of excellence. He has gone on to produce work featuring the Hindu Deity, Lord Ganesh as well as birds, a popular symbol for freedom of flight. He most recently debuted 'Rituals of the Urban Yogi', a series of paintings that illustrate the tenets previously seen in CAM's work, combined in the context of the yoga culture, well-known for its alignment with holistic wellness.
- CAM's work has been shown in group & solo exhibitions internationally & has been featured in prominent corporate collaborations. In 2016 he will participate in several exhibitions & complete several public art projects. CAM uses an exploratory process to create images of animals like birds and elephants that are reminiscent of stained glass. His mantra is, "always be mindful of your ability to fly."
